Initially perforated panels from perfonet.co.uk are just panels with holes in it.

Only your ideas and your creativity turn those panels into a remarkable design and decoration element.

Decorate with functionality and design. Turn a neglected corner or room which you'd rather hide than show into a precious space within your home.

You have an obsolete piece of furniture? With perforated design panels from perfonet.co.uk you can realize a change in appearance for which everybody will envy you.

Do you have some interesting ideas or projects you've realized and want to share with others ?

Just send us a picture or two and a short discription if possible, we would be glad to publish your creative works.

Please send your project information to:
